

The most difficult part was the beginning when trying to connect Lakebase with app and get the data in the tables from input in the UI.

Lakebase is OLTP which is optimized for making transactions and suites in production applications like this one. Whereas traditional analytics table is OLAP which is optimized for doing analytics and storing large amounts of data.

I would like to add delete functionality for the tickets.